Dear C-Span and Mr. Lamb,

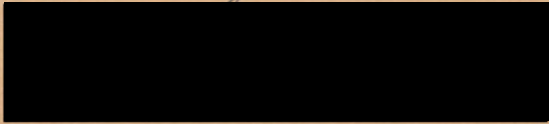

Today's interview with the Hearst & Scripps-Howard reporters ENRAGED me. They were perfect examples of copious doses of self-satisfaction and narcissism. Slothful reporters forget this poor slob in wheeling, Illinois who is aching for representation (honest) in the capital & ^{media} who in the hell do all those belt way hypocritical hoaxes (Bush on down to the kid that empties the trash bins) think they are?

Suggestions: select a few of your more intelligent, articulate listners & form a panel to question the media & I mean question. No more one line (snicker, snicker) gigglers.

To think that the "richly robed ambassador" to Kuwait is welcomed in the same room as the president and other quests is an indication of the abyss our government has crawled into. Slime.

Sincerely,
