C-Span Television Network

I used to think that C-Span was not biased like all the news networks, CNN, CBS, NBC & ABC. But it is becoming more and more biased all the time. I am beginning ^{to wonder} if all the media wants this Country to be a one party system.

Every reporter I see on the call-in programs is liberal. You cannot tell me it isn't planned to be that way. Any-way it was always my opinion that the news was supposed to be the news and just that. Since this election year has come up it is so plain to see that all the news media is against President Bush. They don't even try any more to be objective.

I hope how soon they get that draft dodger in the White House, then everything will be roses for them, or at least that's what they think now.
