Dear Mr. Lamb,

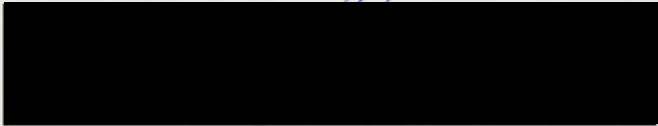

For a long time I have been listening to the Saturday night broadcast of your Friday Journalists Roundtable, and I have enjoyed it immensely. I find it stimulating and highly informative, and I greatly admire your knowledgeable guests and especially you as the gracious host.

But this past Saturday I was shocked by the ugly, narrow, partisan attitude of Eleanor Clift. Naturally your guests do not always see eye to eye, but I have appreciated the fact that they are polite and respect each other.

opinions. Eleanor, on the other hand, was rude and contemptuous, and her presence that night destroyed the very tenor of the gathering.

It is not my custom to write a letter such as this, but Mrs. Clift did a great disservice to you and to the Roundtable. I will continue to watch and listen, but I do hope that Eleanor Clift is not invited back.

Sincerely,

Mr. Brian Lamb - C-Span
