Dear Mr. Lamb,

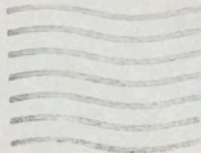

I am a retired school teacher. I have been watching C-SPAN closely for the past 2 years. In all that time I have never seen such an upsetting program as I did today at 8:00^{AM} EST. I fault you for losing control of your show. Usually your guests are polite and restrained. Chris Matthews today was totally out of control. He was misinformed about many of his points and extremely rude to your callers. I have not seen any of your guests interrupt callers and other guests such as he did today. Perhaps he thought he was on Crossfire or the McLaughlin Show.

I usually enjoy watching C-SPAN because there is civility and respect. There was none of that today. Please don't let your show become a shouting match & exercise your control over your guests once again.

Sincerely,
