Dear C-Span,

I listened to Jerry Brown's speech at the Democrat's Convention on C-Span. His message was lofty and correct, however Jerry's manner of speaking would inspire the Harvard graduate. The Democrat party needs a Candidate who can deliver that same message to the multitudes who graduated from Elmwood High School. Plain, honest Truth is simple.

Ronald Reagan delivered a simple message, he was a simple man, however he gave the power to those with vested interests who made him look like a genius.

Our country desperately needs an opposition leader that reaches all the people, minces no words or swerves from conviction, with party backing, to not pussy-foot around, and back him to the hilt. From a viewer
