Dear Friends:

I become so upset,
I take it almost personally, when callers become critical of your truly magnificent presentations and programs.
You're always so balanced and willing to give voice to one and all.

There are many programs I prefer not to give my attention to, but that's my privilege, and I wouldn't fault you for televising them. I can't comprehend that some resent what others delight in, or vice versa. Bless you for your uncanny ability to produce individuals that either delight or disgust.

Your VJ Day programming was informative, educational, and touching. I've copied some for family and friends to better acquaint them with the horror of the time. My husband was in the Europe theatre as a 103rd Infantry Platoon Sergeant, and we are a very patriotic family.

You continually satisfy my longing for the kind of information you offer, and I thank you. I watch TV, not to be entertained but to be informed, and you fit the bill perfectly.
Gratefully,
