Dear Mr. Daniel:

Good job with the Nixon funeral... with one exception
... Jules Witcover.

I search for the proper words to describe his performance
... rude, insensitive, tactless.
Beyond that his commentary fell some where between shallow and boring. Swan handled the situation with class both during Witcover's time slot and after he left.

As a news consumer
I realize most of these "media types" feel they must constantly be in an "attack mode"...

There is a time and a place.

I hope I will never see Witeover on C-SPAN again.

On to more pleasant matters. Your special on Booknotes a few weeks ago was one of your best programs. It was well worth the effort you and your staff invested.

Best regard
