Dear C-Span,

I've just finished watching "Journalists Round table". I have to watch on Saturday evening because I'm at work when it is live.

I enjoy C-Span very much because I feel I can filter through many different points of view and arrive at my truth.

This was the first time I have seen Journalists Roundtable that seemed to have NO different points of view. Is this a new policy of C-Span's? I sincerely hope not. If it is not a new policy, how did this happen?

Thank you.
