Dear Mr Lamb,

I was watching "Book holes" this evening and was shocked at your performance as interviewer. I always feel that you were, in the past, fair sides in some of your interviews regardless of subject matter, but tonight, I came to realize ~~for~~ after listening to the program that you must have latent anti-Israeli feelings.

I am not discussing your choice of books to discuss, although I think that these authors (the Cockburns) are professional scandal mongers rather than objective reporters.

apparently you felt, late in the program, that you might have been heavy handed toward Israel & asked the Cockburns "does the U.S. Government lie?" in a feeble attempt to be even handed - such a silly question - the answer to which is well known.

I have admired your work in the past & feel that C-span was the one place to turn for unbiased information but the night's broadcast has created serious doubt in my mind about your fairness & judgment.

Sincerely,
