

Mr Lamb

on 5/28/98 I listened to Susan Swain halt a caller from reading a list of Democrats who support China in dealing with this corrupt administration & yet she allowed a following caller to read a complete list of Republicans who avoided military service without interruption.

Months ago I listened to Connie Brod when the subject of the draft dodger came up.

at the very end of her stint she asked "What about some politician from, I believe Wisconsin who avoided military service knowing full well there was no time for a response

There's a difference between not qualifying for military service & down right cowardice

Is that right? I don't think so!

Since then when Connie Brod is on I switch to another channel, now I can ignore Susan Swain as well. Too bad!

P.S. Since it seems impossible for me to get through on the phone could you address this in some way?
