People of the Judicial, Executive, and Legislative branches, I have written dozens of letters I have tried to call over a hundred times and only managed to get through two times to only be cut off.

I am a advice watcher but avoids most of the trash that is obviously biased and full of hate. The only means of communication I am able to establish with the White House is by writing since I have no computer to fax my opinions.

Most people who are neither ^{rich} rich or middle class can't afford the high technical devices and hypertheoretically speaking I believe this new technology is mostly for rich people which are usually Republican.

I am deeply saddened by the obvious bias which some have displayed openly which is very cruel as well as sad, to witness adults act ~~up~~ on primitive instincts like revenge and hate. Justice is reached only when it is done without bias and primitive anger, or political agendas.

I hope you Democrats got my letters pertaining to the Tobacco Co. and have put this Republican ran position must be used if nothing else as evidence so as to prove that others have lied under oath and not only did they lie but that they lied to a little boy at that trial as well, and they are free!

Such hypocrisy must be challenged to the extreme. Let's be fair to beat an evil, one must adjust to an equal opposing or more powerful force. In other words fight fire with fire.

It is sad that evil understands only force, but to survive (sad as it may be) ones actions must be as equally or more fear^{ce}ful or else suffer the consequences of the evil opposing force.

The tobacco hot shots are 'killers', and know it, that is why they are paying such large sums of money, and money people is really at the root of this evil. I for one also believe that they knew, the Republicans.

They are so hell bent on the rule of law yet they think it's ok to ~~sell~~^{sale} tobacco to every one including children, yes children they care so much about are being poisoned by the product they are helping to ~~sell~~ sale.

They say there are no exceptions to the lying under oath, well I remember their tobacco buddies raised their right hands and lied under oath yet no one seems to remember that day at all, "But I do."

Selling cigarettes is evil, ~~because~~ "too" for example they are addictive and hazardous to your health. It's been proven for quite some time now that cigarettes kills thousands of people every day.

A lie is a lie alright so long as you aren't caught. This stuff kills even those who don't buy it, they call it second hand smoking which has

I made me ill to the point of catching asthma and caused my Aunt to die prematurely of ~~esc~~ cancer. So get off the President you ! stinking hypocrites.

I can't believe that they have the guts to say the President lies too much and can't be trusted, how dare they to even show their lying faces saying no one is above the law.

The hypocrocey is "over welming", and as for him lying to the public and corrupting the children. I say this, there was a little boy at that trial, and he was sturnly lied to on public television.

The President lied and ^{I think} yes he should pay some kind of repentance, but knot by them no way will I sit here in Miami for that. I may not be able to call sence I keep being out off but I can write.

If anyone is to be impeached its the stinking Republicans. They are evil and should be replaced by some other party, a party that will listen to the people, not no over zealous over paid trogmodyts trogmodyts.

God only knows what mess the zealots are leading us Americans into. Clinton, our President is apparently innocent of all the junk they hoped to find.

This is a mess not only made by Bill, but also the Independent Concelman Starr, Monica, Trapp, Newt, that ugly woman and her son, and the media rats.

Riveria live and Charles Grodin are the ~~acceptance~~ exceptions. If I had a computer I would write to them with great admiration for remaining strong.

I've said it once, and I'll say it again, I love it when a friend will stick with a person who is down to the end. Too bad Newt's friends didn't stick with him to the end.

Republicans are like Baptists, will turn on their leaders; Democrats will do all they can to help theirs. Even when the odds are against them.

"Listen," I am apouled with my prediction, on how its manifesting itself, too many people are dying while this madness continues, good people have suffered and I fear more surprises awaits us that are going to shock us all; like for example another deaf is bound to occur at the White House.

These are things that frighten the heck out of me. People running around attacking those they feel are wrong on not impeaching the President. Forcing their opinions on others, creating bias; Therefor causing riots to do their dirty work even 'murder'. This mess must stop now before its too 'late'.

This is the same stuff that caused a guy to go out to the White House looking for the President to kill but ended up killing two other human beings instead. This kind of hate spreading from the White House and media critics is what I call remote murdering, causing some weak minds to get excited go out and commit murder.

3 Now when will we learn that this mess is out of control, RACEIL MURDER, KKK RIOT, ABORTIONIST MURDER, GAY MAN MURDER, and as if that isn't enough A Republican kills a Democrat. This mess ^{must} stop before its influence cause more "Deafs".

Accresence is not the answer, wisdom, and forsite plus compassion is, and we are losing our morals, without these characteristics we are less than human. The Deaf of Outrage By Mr. Bennit helps to promote anger other than helping us to be wiser.

I feel with all my heart, if the tobacco kings can sale cigarrets that have caused my Aunts deaf and gave me arshima (not to mention also lied under oath) can still walk around unscaved, then so should our President.

After all he hasn't killed or made anyone ill, the only thing he has done is adultery which is a sin, not a crime. Pandora Box is going to hurt everyone at the W.H. and it won't ~~kill~~ ^{kill} which party dies.

"Republicans beware", now it truly begins and may God have mercy on your poor souls.

Prejudice is a primitive, animatistic, primordial, hatred, that is usually ^{gh} taught or is ^{unconsciously} unscienely embreaded through ones actions from generation to another.

'Hate,' is too unpredictable, even for those with high IQs, can't control their actions when it plays on ones emotions. The Key to living together in such a world is to know how far one should play on others beliefs and feelings.

We are humanbeings, and to use the law as a weapon instead of a tool for justice, is a dangerous folly indeed and will turn on those who think they can twist it, 'will learn not to in time'?

Pride of the human spirit is too sensitive for one to be completely controlled by laws. That is ~~make~~ what makes us humans and not machines, and to lie and say other wise is wrong.

Laws are made to be changed with the times, and I believe it's time to make that change now with the rules on sex. Clinton, our President and dozens of scholars, historians, even convicts tells me it's time to change this law fast!

The Republicans are extremist that would put slavery back in action if they felt it was in their power to actually get away with it. I hate what I am witnessing from the Republicans (they are it seems) a crazy breed of beings that can't control their vengeance reasoning faculties.

The once written law was that blacks had no rights that whites were superior and should remain rulers over those less ~~for~~^{more} forcemant or not of the same race, yet they in their evil acts ~~they~~ raped and hide their wrongs.

Without the rapes . . . I suppose we would still be slaves. "Think God," we are alive with more rights than our ancestors and ^{ugh} now we aren't 100% free of unfairness, we are getting smarter and wiser.

One day a Black race of Americans will become a United States President.

Then and only then will others follow and truly believe in law and order and justice for all races.

The Republicans are ~~more~~,
and I'll be glad when they are 'gone'.

I Care Always
