Dear Mr. Lamb,

We, the students of S.A.V.E. are sending you this letter to voice our concerns about violence in this world. We are the [REDACTED] students of [REDACTED] in Edison, New Jersey, who, along with our teachers, decided to take action. S.A.V.E. stands for Students Against Violence Everywhere. As a symbol of our commitment to this issue, we each wear a blue ribbon, which we've made ourselves.

Everyday, the newspapers are filled with stories about acts of violence. Violence is a serious problem, but we are serious about seeing it end.

We realize that we are the future, and we want to be able to feel comfortable about our environment now. Children, like all people, have the right to feel safe at home, in school, and anywhere they choose to visit.

We would like this world to be a safer place for all of us, and we hope you will help us spread the word. Please wear the enclosed blue ribbon and make sure to tell people what it represents.

We are just getting started, but in the next few months, we will not only continue writing letters, but will participate and do research to better educate ourselves and others to the issues. We hope to be able to start a newsletter to keep everyone informed of our work.

Won't you join us? If you'd like more information about our group, contact us c/o the above address. We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
