Dear Sirs,

Will you please tell me why you've restarted The Road To The White House series so soon after the 1992 election?

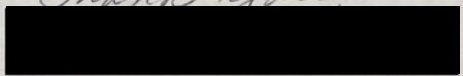

Did you start the above mentioned series 3 months after the 1988 election? I don't believe you did; therefore why now? I really don't understand the reasoning associated with your decision to restart that program less than 6 months after the last election.

I would think you would have the courtesy & the honesty to give this president a fair chance to get his plans & programs approved by Congress before your network starts parading Republicans & their rhetoric before the cameras.

I await your answers to the questions that I have presented. I intend to persue this matter further.

Thank you

P. S. I have been unable to participate in your many "Call-in" programs, even when I dial the appropriate number immediately after instructions are given by the host of that program. Is there any reason for excluding Lansing, Ill. residents from joining in the dialogue?
