

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Contact: Rayne Pollack
(202) 626-4863
Monique Llanos
(202) 626-7975

C-SPAN CONGRATULATES CONTINENTAL CABLEVISION'S
1992 EDUCATOR AWARD WINNERS

Washington, D.C., March 20, 1992 -- C-SPAN and Continental Cablevision acknowledges the outstanding efforts of the teachers, administrators, media specialists and librarians who participated in Continental Cablevision's 3rd Annual Educator Award competition.

The annual award competition is open to all schools and districts in Continental Cablevision's service area. Participants had to state the major objectives of their lesson plan; strategies used to meet these objectives; evaluation techniques used to measure effectiveness and the special benefits of "Cable In The Classroom." They are also recognized for their use of cable programming to enrich the educational experience in their schools or districts.

Award winners and their regional Continental Cablevision representatives will arrive at C-SPAN on Thursday, April 9. Winners will participate in C-SPAN's signature Live Viewer Call-In Program, tour the network's facilities and take part in a roundtable discussion to share their educational programs. On Friday, April 10, award winners will wrap up their visit by engaging in a discussion with Consultant, Dr. John Splaine of the University of Maryland, on critically viewing television. C-SPAN

C-SPAN is privately funded to serve the public by America's cable television companies. C-SPAN is currently available in 56 million households nationwide and around the world via satellite.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:
Contact: Rayne Pollack
(202) 626-4863
Monique Llanos
(202) 626-7975

C-SPAN CONGRATULATES CONTINENTAL CABLEVISION 'S
1992 EDUCATOR AWARD WINNERS

Washington, D.C., March 20, 1992 -- C-SPAN and Continental Cablevision acknowledge the outstanding efforts of the teachers, administrators, media specialists and librarians who participated in Continental Cablevision's 3rd Annual Educator Award competition.

The annual award competition is open to all schools and districts in Continental Cablevision's service area. Participants had to state the major objectives of their lesson plan; strategies used to meet these objectives; evaluation techniques used to measure effectiveness and the special benefits of "Cable In The Classroom." They are also recognized for their use of cable programming to enrich the educational experience in their schools or districts.

Award winners and their regional Continental Cablevision representatives will arrive at C-SPAN on Thursday, April 9. Winners will participate in C-SPAN's signature Live Viewer Call-In Program, tour the network's facilities and take part in a roundtable discussion to share their educational programs. On Friday, April 10, award winners will wrap up their visit by engaging in a discussion with C-SPAN Consultant Dr. John Splaine of the University of Maryland, on critically viewing television.

C-SPAN is privately funded to serve the public by America's cable television companies. C-SPAN is currently available in 56 million households nationwide and around the world via satellite.