Dear Brian:

Imagine my discouragement after trying relentlessly to get through to you for a timely, pertinent question of Mr. Kranish during your Friday morning show, only to be frustrated by a busy signal, and further insulted by some numb-brained caller from California talking about state constitutional abrogation of his rights by being issued a drivers license! (He didn't like the requirement for a breathalyzer analysis vs license suspension, I'm sure.)

Got any open line up there for an occasional erudite inquiry?

Regards,
