Dear Miss [REDACTED],

Yesterday being Labour day Worldnet did not put out any programmes but they substituted C-SPAN for their programmes. The object of this letter is to say thankyou for a delightful 4 hours, because that is the total time Worldnet broadcasts, unfortunately. Here in Germany yesterday was the most beautiful weather you could imagine. I have a balcony which faces the South and the sun shines all day upon it thus making a very comfortable place for someone who is retired, such was the quality of yesterday's programmes that I sat inside the whole of the afternoon because the discussion with respect to Democracy was of particular interest to this Englishman. So I gave up a beautiful sunny day just to watch C-SPAN, I can't make a greater compliment. Further, I took the trouble to make a video of the programmes and I have sent it to my friend in England, would you also give my thanks to Mr Brian Lamb who's incisive questioning created so many interesting answers.

From a very grateful viewer.
