Dear C-Span,

Thanks for helping to educate the public with your fine TV coverage of the Senate Ethics Committee concerning the Keating - Five.

These senators are given the opportunity to tell the public how they conceive of their duties as senators and frankly they are coming across sadly lacking. These senators are so busy doing favors for their constituents that they don't have time to attend to their law making duties. No wonder the country is in such a financial mess.

Poor Senator De Concini rambles on and on about the favors he has done for people until he has spread himself so thin that he has lost touch with what he came to Washington to do.

Again thanks for your fine program.

Sincerely,

Richmond VA
