

I watch C-Span because there is no hype, no manipulation of current events. It is low key without bias. And the call-in participants are allowed to comment fully without interference from the hosts.

The selection of guests is well-balanced and gives both sides of an issue. The interviews are fair and give no evidence of their orientation on a given issue.

Presentation of congressional hearings offer an excellent opportunity to observe our representatives at their worst and at their best. The hearings clarify the issues extensively.

In summary, it is the one program I can watch knowing that it is fair and honest. That is why I watch C-Span.
