

Subject - Bill-Gate and the 8 minute special "Play is the Work of Children". Generation X is lacking practical "work" experiences. Lacking the real development of the 3 senses taste, smell and Touch, for a complete education leading to the reverse in old age when work becomes the play of Adults. Confinement to viewing life through the other guy windows from Cradle is a grave error, i.e. one's senses of vision and audio can not compensate for the touch of a puppies rough tongue - The smell of green grass freshly mowed - The vertigo of the simulator cannot simulate the free flight of the hang glider. The exercise machine is no P/C replacement for the feel of real horse flesh or the gait of a Tennessee Gates Walker. So I would caution Gates to confine his soft ware to the hard core education of Adults - To log on those mature minds that have not been short circuited in childhood By Greedy Adults hawking mega bites of CD Rom - By "Throwing a pot of paint in the face of the Public". Necessity is the Mother of Invention not Greed. ^{DOT} period, pause
