WELK

Dear Mr. Lomb,

Does your network have something against the State of Maine? It appears that way, because, in its various forms, ^{your network} goes out of its way to avoid this state. Your bus, for example, comes close to this state (N. Hampshire) and then backs away from it as if it were a foreign border. In another instance your network covered virtually every gubernatorial inauguration from last Nov. elections with the exception of Gov. Angus King's.

On a more positive note our state has had an influence on national politics running from Hannibal Hamlin to James G. Blaine to Muskie and Mitchell, and it will continue to have influence. I submit that the fact that our state has elected 2 independent governors in twenty years is a precursor for what could happen

nationally in presidential election cycles.

Please respond to this letter at your earliest convenience, but let me assure you of something. We are not Canada.
~~But~~ No passports are needed. I like C-Spain but this state gets ignored enough by the major networks without having you join in.

Sincerely,
