CSPAN —

I watch CSPAN —

— because it's among the best of the channels available on my cable's nonpay services. CSPAN provides me with programming that is enjoyable, informative & of high quality. CSPAN covers the world of politics in America — a subject which is of great importance & interest to me. CSPAN allows me to view the actors of the political arena without the interference & editorial censorship which occurs with the print media, and with broadcast, as well. I watch CSPAN because a picture is ^{worth} a thousand words (or even 500). CSPAN, through its continuous coverage, lets me get the whole picture, for spoken opinions really come to life, when the speaker is shown in proper perspective — the gesticulations, intonations, & logical processes complete a vista which print & broadcast can only hint at. CSPAN saves me valuable time & money, for I no longer need seek, often fruitlessly, for the words & thoughts of those who debate our governmental policy. CSPAN brings the debate to my living room in full living black & white 24 hours a day. one →

I watch CSPAN because it is the best thing to happen to ^{the} American political process in my lifetime - a lifetime spent after in serious doubt of the validity of the American political process, for as a Washington native born in the year Kennedy won, I've witnessed the sad horrors of Vietnam, Watergate, & the many power struggles inherent in politics. I feel CSPAN ~~once again~~ provides American citizens with a closer link to the processes of governmental policy & this gives me hope that, despite the numerous problems this country has faced & continues to face, we as a nation are more likely to heed ~~the~~ our Constitutional heritage through participation & knowledge of our government in homes throughout the nation. Thank you very much CSPAN.

Sincerely yours,
