HISTORIC COVERAGE OF REHNQUIST NOMINATION HEARING

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- In 1969, television cameras were barred from Warren Burger's nomination hearing as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court by Sen. James Eastland (D-MS) -- then-chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. 17 years later -- this July 22nd -- cable television viewers will be able to watch the entire nomination hearing of Chief Justice-designate William H. Rehnquist.

On Tuesday, July 22nd, C-SPAN's plans for the historic coverage include:

- live coverage of the initial hours of the nomination hearing (breaking away at noon when the House comes in session for the day)
- live call-in program featuring guests in favor of and against the Rehnquist nomination at 9:00 pm et
- entire nomination hearing beginning at 10:30 pm et
- interviews with members of the Senate Judiciary Committee

Judge Antonin Scalia's nomination hearing will be covered in much the same format on July 29th.
