CITIZENS ORGANIZED FOR HONEST REFORM

States must provide a respectful effort or be accountable -

No independently elected law making bodies should be able to succeed themselves when the sum of the members, a majority in rule, or compact in power by minorities joined, leaves a discredited record, in total disregard of the burdens stacked against all the future new succeeding generations.

There is not now a law to prevent wanton greed or avarice of this nation's society from bankrupting our Country.

Positive action in the national sense, as well as State bodies with legislative authority thru their super majority granted priority, is the only tool remaining that can delineate the reforms so obviously needed in federal government maintaining a balanced code of ongoing integrity to the People, of today, tomorrow, and continuing lineage.

Other than exists as a moral bond, the immense economic financial platform guiding all United States policies and thus directly influencing the global monetary stability, is, without strong statute renewal, now headed for a risky precipice, followed by a potentially disastrous social upheaval.

For all the reasons apparent, law makers whose significant responsibility is to protect and safeguard the nation long term, are and have been failing, for alert citizens to witness.

Our generational constituency has lost its' reliability and the representatives of have broken faith with established traditions.

Congress has neither the will or the foundation to rest rational resolution on. Common sense is beyond the present decade of our old " politics as usual ". The bounds are not in place to regulate or to restrain unlicensed catastrophic long term indebtedness.

The nonchalant disavowal to recognize the near onslaught and later undeserved overloads will primarily falter into our childrens' hands.

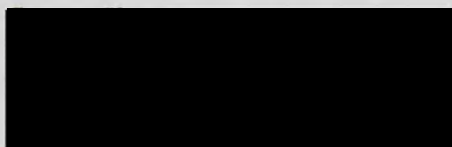

Accepting for debate other U.S. Treasury paper commitments and the guarantees made for a liability of 12 trillion as problematic-set aside; the mortgage debt alone if seriously addressed in growth rates till even, in 2001, 7 appropriation years away, then subsequently with the principal paid down yearly in amounts equal to deficits run in the build up, the principal and interest costs might fall between 17-18 trillion.

Shallow games from the Nationally elected, less innocent hell, can not be the " end all " of personal or State legislative Constitutional pledged duty.

To reach for institutional faith in this predicament ignores later lapses forthcoming in maverick temporary social or congressional mood patterns ahead.

Surely the fiasco reaches to Constitutional fundamentals that now can be studied politically by 50 honest appeals only.

The spent arrow is now a falling missile.

CITIZENS ORGANIZED FOR HONEST REFORM

A.C.E. PUBLIC POLICY ORGANIZATION

The Super Buffet overflows its' Table, with Notice :

At the near closing moments of the national quadrennial election a few reputable sincere notable public servants demonstrate for an open discussion clearly exposing that election frame short term political agendas neglect serious compelling issues, as here complicated but very critical to the Country's growth and credibility.

With contending participants recognizing the often constructive propositions needed would be less rewarding to a minority of active voters that are the final determinate in election voting, they, the reclaimers, must weigh the factor most contestants will side step any vital plan tabled because there is risk, a faltering endorsement with controversial exposure never exceeding to popular majority.

The latest "formation" emphasizes populist pressure where as the national leadership succumbing to populism helped to create the present situation and continues the void to deliberate in sensible forum.

Of the two other priority efforts one attempts to license candidates that dream from obscurity to victory with a leap to prudence before a carefully designed study in procedure to assure a foundational path is planned for a guided purpose and less a scheme for unpalatable goals. Public disclosure of the facts is paramount.

What we consider a formidable union of highly respected elected officers with noticeable records of concern, have been working to forge some program that may draw a consensus of congresspersons to reliability.

Our group and affiliates strongly approve the motives of the three projects :

- The Concord Coalition
- Lead or Leave Campaign
- Strengthening America Effort

Well meaning is often not the measure of success in politics. A possibility of concurrent actions with hopefully broader cooperation between the reformers will serve to expand elected and electorate awareness; responsibility might follow.

The at large public, recall that one half feel so estranged they refrain from the franchise in discredit to the prearranged System, have rarely been asked, are not basically drilled to think, only remotely been made a direct consequence to preliminary study or planning of any national aims.

The People in this potential realignment are crucial, with reliable information, less the Party partisan hypocrisy of past, they must not only accede to the corrections but many will have to chose unselfish goals: the resolution for steady longer term success will not stay as robust without candor on cutbacks and elevation of purpose. A mediocre margin of public sympathy is not the backbone required for citizens' reliance on politicians' intent.

Honest elected incumbents may have little choice left, but citizens do have an option for careful building blocks. Should the anticipated reforms be exercised by the changing winds through a volatile partisan offering or be manifested into codified law.

Beyond our life's span by far, might we host fidelity to the many more innocent.
