Was it on "Booknotes" that I saw a discussion/review of "A QUESTION OF CHARACTER: A Life of JFK." Author is Thos. C. Reeves, Prof. of History, U. of Wisc-Parkside, pub. by The Free Press, Div. of Macmillan. His preface begins, "It seems that I have always liked JFK," and continues, "In 1960 my wife and I were all for Kennedy." It's an absorbing book, perhaps the best I've read on the subject, and not written by a congenital JFK-basher. "A Main Selection of The History Book Club," the jacket reads. If you've reviewed it, thanks, that's where I must have heard about it. If not, you should (must!). It's an excellent book. Best to you, always...
