

Dear Mr. Lamb: I've been a C-Span sponsor for years and necessarily contacted, wrote, telephoned & cajoled our local cable until we now at least have you from 7am to 7pm.
(for yrs. before it was midnite to 6 am!)

I've been sorely disappointed in your guests recently. Why are you so opposed and/or fearful of inviting Limbaugh as a guest on one of your panels? I fear you are a closet liberal now.
Tonight we had a re-run of your Fri "Correspondents" panel, one - from the N. Y. Post, was hardly able for me to understand and when I did his remarks seemed anything but pertinent. When asked by a caller about the unusual liberal make-up of your panels, you had excuses for each one but declined not a word

Giving Hope To A World Of Need of explanation re your refusal of Limbaugh. Yes, we see very disillusioned.

Helping people return to self-sufficiency and break the grip of poverty is CRS' highest priority in Eastern Europe. CRS projects help Polish farmers build irrigation systems, provide medicine for AIDS-stricken orphans in Romania, assist refugees in the former Yugoslavia. NEED, NOT CREED, common in Mediterranean regions, the trailing sub-shrubbery is often composted for fertilizer.

Flowers of Hope-Europe

Convolvulus tricolor

REDWOOD CITY CA 94061

Mr. Brian Lamb
C-SPAN
400 North Capitol St.
N.W.

Washington, D.C.

20001

Personal
Suite 650