

I believe C-span to be the most informative station on television.

I have learned more about how the "House of Representatives" works or doesn't work according to ones personal point of view.

The wide range of subjects covered by C-span is phenomenal. Especially enjoyable is "Close up" with the young peoples participation. They are intelligent and perceptive.

I never would have known that "Tip" O'Neill thinks he is a demi-god or that the percentage of votes are not representative of the percentage of Republicans in the house.

If this were corrected the votes that are close could possibly seeing the other way when the issues are close.

Brian Lamb, Susan Swain et al are dispassionate and unbiased.

C-spon is worth every penny and more that I pay for cable.

I am an avid movie buff, but I have given up many a movie to watch C-spon and have never been sorry that I made the "C-spon decision."

I don't want to use a trite saying such as "C-spon junkie" but the greatest amount of my time is spent riveted in front of channel 31 here in Illinois

I started reading the credits long before it was suggested that I do so.

Five hundred words would not be enough if I were to use all the superlatives that C-spon deserves.

After over a year of watching C-spon I finally became a first time caller.

Bruce Collins guest did not appear, but he handled it exceptionally well as did Bruce Lomb the time his guest failed to appear.

We (the audience) see History being made.

I will close with a trite saying "job well done" and that the efforts of every one there is appreciated by a grateful listener.

I read this to my wife and she thought my criticism of "5 ip" O'Neill would hurt my chances of winning, but I feel the panel will be unbiased and realize that the points I've made are part of my education.

In closing I would like to say I am not a professional writer but I am sincere.

I thank you for giving me the opportunity to praise something that is so praise-worthy
