Thank you for your response.

Watching the Senate under "Quorum Call" cries out for distraction. I still think the name of the background music would be an educational addition.

With the House's voting there is some activity on the screen. I can see the music's name having room in the upper right corner.

I had not known that Brian Lamb was your president. I liked the Texas interviews.

Your addict,

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your letter. Here at C-SPAN, we appreciate the effort viewers take to offer their thoughts and comments concerning our programming. Along with the employees in the Viewer Information Department, your letter is read by members of both our Executive and Editorial Boards. In response to your inquiries, we do not show credits for the pieces played because it is our policy not to distract viewers from the other events on the screen.

Thanks again for writing.

Sincerely,
