- U.S. law stipulates that foreign assistance, including that given to Israel, should be linked directly to the recipient's performance on human rights. The United States should no longer be a partner to the oppression of Palestinian and Lebanese civilians under Israeli occupation. U.S. aid to Israel must be cut accordingly.

An Israeli patrol killed a three-year-old Palestinian boy in the Gaza Strip as Arabs staged a general strike in the occupied territories to mark the start of the 12th month of an uprising against Israel. At least a dozen other Palestinians were reported wounded in clashes with Israeli authorities.

Most of the wounded were teen-agers.

A 12-year-old Palestinian girl, Hanadi Abu-Sultan, died at the Tel Hashomer Hospital near Tel Aviv after troops shot her in the head in a Jan. 10 clash at the Shati refugee camp in Gaza Strip, the military command said.

On Friday, two 15-year-old Palestinians died after being shot by troops in clashes.
