

THE BALD EAGLE (Haliaeetus leucocephalus) inhabits isolated areas throughout North America. A few can be found wintering along Bolinas Lagoon, Tomales Bay and the esteros of the Point Reyes National Seashore. This eagle feeds mainly on fish and has a wingspan that can reach 6½ feet. The population of this shy raptor has been so reduced as to warrant Federal Status of Endangered Species.

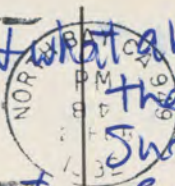

I'm a Jerry Brown supporter. Can't help but notice how you refuse to cover brown - all you do is cover up - your joining the Clinton 'gang' is obvious. Who paid you off? Why not mention George Bush's mistress of many years who he has even kept on federal payroll?? & why not mention

What about the October Surprise - Get on the ball or quit!

~~Jack Heath~~
BRIAN LAMB
C-SPAN TV
Washington DC.

400-N. Cap. ST. NW
20001

mention DAN Quayle's previous draft dodging & drug use [redacted] [redacted] [redacted]

SCB 60, BOX 152, INVERNESS, CALIFORNIA 94937

Sinclair Lewis

