Dear Sirs: I used to be a C-Span junky glued to the set until I had to go to work.
You have caused your own troubles by setting up separate lines so that people calling in have to choose being liberal/conservative/moderate which I suspect is political, attempting to find who is for/against the disreputable administration's fall. Have three lines but you don't have to divide & conquer the listeners & also, it wastes time. Tell the phone answerers to remind people to turn off the T.V. I stopped watching when Clinton discovered the free captive audience. Today no one takes the Caller's word.
