@-Span
please you
messed up!
What did you do—

Did you take a sponge, dip it in color & add to the Capitol picture?
Horrible — the guest sits there with the light colored book projecting from one side of his head & the white mat on the other side. If you must have the Capitol in the picture please make it a muted misty grey without a white mat — Elimination of book & picture would be a solid solution! Plainer background

@-Span is so special for me — at least 2 or 3 hrs a day — bought a new large TV so I could reach you on Cable with my own remote.

Retired + TV is my entertainment — politics especially.

CNN NEWS IS GREAT

II

Love the guests (variety)
Hosts are great —
Brian Lamb — a refreshing personality.
Callers are your best asset — all walks of real life!
Only one draw-back — Too early for our Western U.S. — which is ignored in so many ways (except for practic news —)
Think how our elections are affected!
It seems the N.E.-U.S. — is ruling, all of us — with Colleges, Univ's &
the belt way is made up of lawyers & government workers that are native
to & go to eastern schools.
The evening call-ins are better for Western people but is during our news hours & probably working hours for Westerners.
It would be nice to have ^{another} C-span located somewhere in the West.
One caller today was wondering if you could have guests from different walks of life — you do keep a good balance of Journalists & politicians.
You are doing very well & I know
your budget is tight

Here is a subject ignored!
The 1992 Budget book is 5 lbs plus
+ costs $43

Who is responsible for suggestions
for spending money?

The Congress is always judged to be at fault.

I checked with our library & in our reference dept. they already have the 1992 edition — which is 8½ x 11 in.
The oldest book (budget) is 1978 and is 5 x 7 inches + 500 pages.

I am wondering who really decides what is printed & do they take last years budget book & add more & more each year. Does the president really have time to read his budget?
Or how many Congressmen
read 1/10 of it.

Our Pres. seems to dwell on Capitol gains & his line-items veto & will do anything to get re-elected. Maybe he would like another war!

Will go to library next week to study the budget 1992

(over)

I learned the budget 1992
is 1600 pages!
& the critique is
300 pages

I tape parts of your programs.
