Dear Mr. Lamb,

There is a new book out. There was a mention in the October issue of the Washingtonian Magazine in Washington D.C. I thought it might be an interesting topic for your book review segment that is on C-Span during the weekend.

The author is Carl Anthony and the title is "First Ladies ". The book is about " The Saga of the President Wives and their power 1789-1961 ". He is going to have another book published in the spring. The book would be about First Ladies to the present day. The author used to be a speechwriter to the former First Lady ,Nancy Reagan.

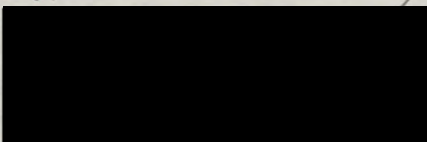

He talks about each first lady to the year 1961. Their role and power is examined in the book.

I found it quite interesting and educational. The Cincinnati Enquirer Newspaper wrote a couple years ago, that they might make a television series out of the book. He, Mr. Anthony, had said in an interview that he does not know about it yet.

The publisher is Morrow.

I hope to see the author on C-Span.

Sincerely,
