Dear Sir/Madam,

A question has arisen in my mind since watching your channel and listening to the callers. "How many of these callers are registered and actively participating voters in all elections - even for the local dog catcher?" I am not suggesting they should not have the right to express their opinions, but are they actively participating in all aspects of the process. It is quite apparent the majority of citizens do not vote.

This question came to mind because I have voted in every general, primary and special election since 1951, even when only one issue was on the ballot.

Thank you for any consideration you may give this inquiry. I have been greatly impressed with all the C-Span moderators and the channel as a whole. Many new insights have been opened to me with more in the future I am sure.

Sincerely,
(Miss) [REDACTED]
