Dear Friends,

What's right about America? What's wrong about C=SPAN ?

On January 15th, Martin Luther King's birth date, your dissemination network hosted another of its notorious dog and pony shows with Evan Thomas, a usual Lamb type Wall St. lapdog and lickspittle, the kind of predictable malleable copyboy who clearly knows on which side his bread is buttered and is not about to bite the hand who feeds him so well.

What made this ludicrous, sophistic exercise particularly memorable was the guest himself, since it serves to underline the pathetic state of American politics, the procurer press and the clever C-SPAN spin routine. Here is the grandson of Norman Thomas, one of our country's greatest leaders of the great multitude of real working people, as opposed to the servants of the privileged class. The fact that your guest was the great man's grandson had to be dragged out of him ! He seems to have been building his servile propagandizing career by promoting the alleged greatness of the rich and powerful malefactors of democracy in order to make amends for his grandfather's life's work as a Socialist. Why else would he do that great tome on the Hariman clique, the worst gang of betrayers who ever destroyed a democracy? Now of course, he serves the worst of the WallSt. hog sheets. This man's attitude seems to be that he rejects Socialism because there's no money in it any more. Well there never was, and that's the whole point. The grandson has great convictions, by anybody's standards. Why isn't he a socialist? Because there aren't any around any more. A cute way to wriggle out of it - and anyway it's far from true.

On the other hand, his book about Harriman, Kennan and Acheson, et al. , the powerful Harriman's circle of hireling servants who took over the country when FDR died and created the cold war all by themselves - within a three year period, is an eyeopener on the disastrous Truman years. That gang of elite criminals - laying out the blueprint for postwar imperial expansion under the menace of the big bang - can never answer for all the devastation and annihilation they are responsible for ! When LBJ finally sat down with the survivors of that clique in 1968, after they had steered four presidents down the primrose total warpath for 28 years and asked them - What now? - they just shrugged and told him he was responsible for terrible mistakes - and poor Lyndon got caught holding the bag. And that's what he gets for listening to academic corporate "liberal" experts (at piracy, intervention for branchinterest "development" and general all-around privateering with bomb in pocket - /Have pentagon - Will travel/ the resume of our successful postwar highway to national security bankrupting of the nation - not to mention the terminal cancer they have been on a ravaged democracy)..

It is because of "successful" yuppie climber generations who took the easy way to making successful careers and "adjustments" to friendly fascist politics, enabling them to see 40 years of CIA presidential carnage as interesting aberrations only - about which to write bestsellers - that we are in our present disastrous state. Although our predicament does NOT YET affect the high career servant boys and political promotional porters of the inner sanctum, inner beltway PR-fascist sugar-teat Washington Reaganite pundit parade, the undeserving "middle" class , which our promoter friends love to dwell on so much - is already getting a bitter portion of what the Thomas punk's grandfather was trying to educate the American working serf about 80 years ago!

Although media valets, TV pundit flunkeys and journalist doormen love to talk about the middle class - they, like their paymasters are singularly vague about determining just what it is and who it encompasses. If anyone took a reasonable measurement. say -$25 to 30,000 - as the delimiting factor between lower and upper middle class, the true facts would be shocking and just so much more information that the mainstream media would be required to suppress and hide from Johnny sixpack and Bubba yahoo - the same way they've been burying and killing all 'news' that might deflect our vaunted foreign policy for 45 years.

Our hero, young Thomas, then let's it slip that he's having dinner with Lawrence Eagleburger. Eagleburger !? Good Christ!! If that's not a perfect example of what's wrong with our rotten, decimated so called fourth estate, I'd like to know what is? And as usual, Brian the great is stretching those "interesting" right wing promotional calls out for maximum questioning and propaganda purposes (stay on the line and let's talk about this !)- while cutting all others off short and sweet, before any BAD IMAGE on his hero's shiny rectum can be disseminated.. By now, we see this as business as usual at lambspin, Inc.

Atta boy, Brian - keep that media throttle closed off tight! Keep the knife in democracy's back and continue the great "cover" and informational suppression and veil over the antics and indiscretions of the Bushgangsters' embezzling and drug running and georgie porgie's famous philandering!! No smoking GUN ?

OF course not. Meese has enough enough butcherboy thefts, burglaries and midnight massacres to cover up on all by himself without tattling about about the scarecrow Prez. But Baker knows, as does most of the congress and the washington press corps!! And So do you for that matter.

Reminds^{ME} of the day you sat there with Steve Roberts and some of your usual irrelevant clowns deflecting another John Hull call. "Conspiracy" theories anyone ? They all sat there looking blank and stupid. Then Roberts, the savviest little Ashkenaz in DC lied baldly, .. Nope never heard of him!! That's collusion on the highest levels, combining to total news suppression, when the trusted press can only be trusted by Bush to keep the cover on..

Yours truly,
