Re Thomas call-in this morning (Friday)---

Most times callers will get to my question even better than I could-- This morning it didn't happen---

1) Danforth:--

There were charges that Thomas displayed poor ethical judgment in not excusing himself from the Ralston-Purina case which profitted Danforth seven and one-half million dollars! I think this puts Danforth's vociferous advocacy for Thomas in a suspicious light -- and that it was unethical on both Danforth's and Thomas' part to have proceeded in such a way-- Very little has been said about these charges and I think they should be openly reviewed--

2) Re Alan Simpson/Nina Totenberg altercation---

They both appeared on one of the late night shows a few night ago where I believe it all began (Nightline?)-- Simpson seems to have developed an "Agnew-like" press allergy -- and the press seems to be looking behind his good-humored down-home folks stories and jokes to the actual content--- He doesn't like it as much these days! But, Simpson verbally attacked Nina on the show in a way he could not have gotten away with with a male--- Simpson is not a gentleman--and very concerned with winning--- That's what I saw---anyway--

3) Thanks for having Marcia Greenberger--- but, re

Frances Conley/Stanford Surgeon - my NY Times report on her resignation states things a little differently: She was harassed for 25 years - even at times over an operating table--- but she believed she was the only one having this difficulty--- Subsequently, she came to see and understand that young women in the medical school were also being harassed -- and then she could see clearly that this isn't about sex -- but simply harassment of women ---

Then she did something about it---

It's slightly different--- she protected not herself (she could take it) but she came out to protect others -- I think she's great! This is why we need women in all the professions and in Government---

Thans again C-Span

Best Wishes!
