Attention: Mr. Brian Lamb

Dear Sir:

I have been a fan of C-Span for quite some time--even to the extent that my daughter has told me to get a life (I should watch Oprah or Sallie Jesse?). Nevertheless, I felt compelled to write about my dismay of your call-in program of last evening, November 30, with Dr. Fauci and Mr. Kramer.

Never have I heard such vile, foul, gutter language and false information from someone, obviously living in moral degradation, who does not recognize his own condition. Of course, it was obvious he was impressed with his own importance as was your moderator, to the extent of being rude to callers who did not accept his lifestyle as an acceptable alternative.

I do not believe you would have continued with "ordinary" people whose language was as obscene as Mr. Kramer's. Christians are not responsible for AIDS.

My anger has reverted to deep sadness for the moral bankruptness of our nation, and the willingness of the media, even C-Span to validate such immorality. God have mercy on America!

Sincerely,
