Dear Brian Lockman:

Prompted by the call of another viewer this morning, let me say that I, too, find the new graphics very distracting. The print is too small...giving the name of the Secretary of Education and also his address in the lefthand corner was almost unreadable. I sit about 8 ft. from my tv set, and find the small print in general unacceptable. Also, the constant flashing on the screen is unnecessary. This morning almost every 20 seconds there was a new graphic that caught our eye as we were listening: First,

CSPAN/Live. Then STATE OF THE AIRLINE INDUSTRY.
Then ED PINTO/AVIATION WEEK. Surely these two latter it ems could be done every 2 minutes.
In fact, the title seems hardly necessary.

Sorry about all the hard work those graphics folks put in. It seems they got carried away with the "equipment" rather than thinking about the viewer.

Nice to write to you..no reply necessary or expected; we know youare busy...
