I watched your 12/28 interview with Ben Wattenberg of the Amer. Enterprize Instit. and Daniel Schorr and was disgusted by Mr. Wattenbergs' animosity toward Mr. Schorr and his supposedly "liberal" comments. Wattenberg, an opinionated ass, wants us to see the economy as just rosy, which it isn't. Mr. Schorr was, I think, very realistic in his remarks, and did a pretty good job in holding his own with the combative opponent.

I then watched your interview with Paul Weyrich of the "Free Congress Fndtn.", formerly of the "Heritage Fndtn." this a.m. and found Mr. Weyrich in his usual mode as a right-wing proponent who has connections with other tunnel-visioned groups as his own.

With all due respect to Mr. Weyrich, who seems like such a 'nice congenial guy', I heard the same 'family values' rhetoric we've been fed for the last twelve years. Most of the callers also felt as I do. He and his cohorts have already infiltrated the state governments of America, by electing from the bottom/up, their own candidates in an effort to make our country an authoritarian theocracy. It is no conspiracy, it is a blatant fact.

Why does Mr. Weyrich spend so much time in Eastern Europe ? Just what does he do there ? Who sends him and who is he meeting with ? Is he speaking for our government ?

Another gentleman, much like Mr. Weyrich is Howard Phillips, who recently ran for Pres.. He was on C-SPAN a couple or three years ago with a member of the Zulus of So. Africa. Also in attendance was Reed Irvine of "Accuracy in Media and Academia" fame. They were involving themselves in So. African affairs, and more on the side of the Apartheid govt.

What is going on anyway, and who chooses these questionable emissaries to speak for all Americans ?

(Please get the "innocent appearing" book: "The Blue Book For Grassroots Politics", by Charles R. Phillips (any relation to Howard Phillips ?) Printed by Thomas Nelson Publishers of Nashville, Tenn..)

I purchased my copy at a local Bible Book store a couple of years ago because C-SPAN had inspired me to take more interest in politics. Actually, this book is a blue-print for a right-wing takeover, because everything in it has come to pass in our countrys' politics; red-button issues and all.

In the acknowledgements, Mr. Weyrich is mentioned along with, ah yes, Gary Bauer of the Family Research Council, Pat Robertson, Phylliss Schlafly, and a bunch of other right-wing fundamentalists such as Jerry Falwell who are all out to "defend our heritage" (?). On page 184 of this paper back they state their goals, in order to rule, to take over the Republican party structure in zealous fury, well, they have already done that.

In the famous words of Reagan (whom I voted for in 80) and Bush (whom I never voted for), 'May God bless America', really. If Ollie North is a hero and good senatorial material, and the porn-lovin' Thomas is a good Supreme Court Justice, and Bush is courageous for his pardoning of the Iran-Contra bunch, I guess a lot of people are nuts and out of step, for not agreeing to this farce of a Justice system.

Happy New Year
