Re: Souther - ^{No only} His friends
and all that.

I watched a silly panel last night on C-Span. "Friends" of David Souther painting a homey, cozy picture of a person George Bush expects to sit on the Supreme Court.

My impression of this was to give me pause. Think about it. Souther is unknown and it would be nice if we could penetrate his bachelorhood, his isolation — I see this person as a blank — ready for fitting into the "team". The Americans are overwhelmed with major scandals. It is easy for George Bush, et al, to intimidate even our elected lawmakers into submission. A great deal depends on truth not balance. C-Span is wonderful. — Keep truth coming — "balance" and "fair" are not as important now.

Sincerely, [REDACTED] (over)

P.S. James Buckley was "appointed" to a judgeship - He was rejected by the voters in Connecticut and New York State - Yet see how he was rewarded. We need a new approach. Is America asleep?
