

Dear Sir,

ACCRA.
27.12.94

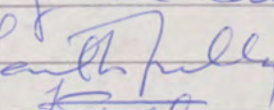

I watched with interest the ABRAHAM LINCOLN debate on 26th Dec 1994. Mr. George Buess did his best to reenact the man whom we all admire for his tolerance, dedication to his Country's cause, love, courage and intelligence. I think we all, especially world leaders, need those qualities in this post-cold war unstable era.

I am a Ghanaian and a great admirer of brave and dedicated men no matter their countries of origin.

I should be grateful if you can arrange to send me at least one copy of the book on ABRAHAM LINCOLN:

"WITH MALICE TOWARDS MONROE" (I hope that's the title) or, if not possible, direct me as to how to obtain one. I am burning to read about this great man of America.

I'd also appreciate if other books on him and others like J.F. Kennedy

Thanks in anticipation of an early response
Yours faithfully
