Dear Brian Lamb,

I'm listening to the morning call-in show - subject is Bankruptcy law - moderated by a young dark haired man whose name I do not know.

J. W. J

This gentleman is one of the very few of your people who has real difficulty in concealing his right-wing bias.

I am a Democrat. A ~~not~~ member of the Democratic Party. When I hear this man speak of the "Democrat line" I see purple.

The only people who use the word Democrat as an adjective instead of a noun are wildly partisan Republicans. What they are saying thereby is that the Democratic party is not democratic.

I find that insulting.

Now that I have that off my chest, let me thank you for instituting the Democratic line and giving some of the people on my side a chance to speak.

C-Span is a wonderful institution. We love it and we love you, ~~too~~ but please speak to that fellow.

Fondest regards -
