Program Director,

Could you please do a piece on the Democratic National Convention: 1992, featuring that dynamic and powerful nominating speech by the magnificent Mario Cuomo, the great governor of N.Y.

If so, please respond by letting me know when it will air; the time, day and date.

I would also like to make a statement about this overly dramatized lynching of President Clinton by the "conservatives" and esp. the hardline right wingers. Whether the press believes it or not, there is a large percentage of us liberal and moderate Americans who aren't buying this manufactured sleazy witch-hunt by the G.O.P.

Thank you,

To: Brian Lamb

Dear Brian,

I would like to say that I truly enjoy your call-in show and esp. BOOK NOTES. Which brings me to the question, "could you please do an interview and review of the block-busting book "Spider's Web" by Alan Friedman.

Would you please respond one way or the other, I am extremely sure it would be a very informing and interesting encounter for you and your viewers!

Thank you,
