This is regarding your program on 9:00 A.M. December 31st 1993. The people that were on the program were Helen Thomas, Stephen Smith, & Ron Brownstein. The impression I got from them was that the news media was not biased to republican people. It was very fair. Candidate Clinton at the Democratic National Convention said that we are tired of people telling us that we are bankrupt of moral values. Everybody was wild with enthusiasm over that. Dan Quale said that our family values have to be changed so that we are bringing up moral people. He was villified by the press and he was laughed at.

President Clinton is now accepting the fact that family values are what will save the country. He is now the most wonderful person in the world because of it. Conservatives have been saying this for a long time and yet they have been laughed at. Isn't the press giving the liberals an unfair advantage. Are we also going to finally admit that our president is lying to us on alot of things. Look at all the incidents that are connected with Vince Foster's death and with the Clinton personal financial dealings. I hope the truth finally gets out about what really happened. The problem is I must be a dreamer because I probably won't find out about this in my lifetime. I hope this information won't sealed in the 100 year time lock like the Kennedy Assassination files.
