C-Span:

It is Monday, August 9th, 1993 in Kennett, MO. About an hour or so ago I was viewing President Bill Clinton praising the valiance of those Senators who "stuck their necks out on the line." I am inclined, alas, to disagree with Mr. Clinton. What I saw was Senator Bob Kerrey of Nebraska proclaiming to the world that he would and should not cast a vote that would bring down the Clinton Presidency.

The Clinton Presidency should never attain nor be granted the importance of the dire urgencies that face our nation.

Sincerely:
