C SPAN
400 N. Capitol St., N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20001

I WATCH C SPAN BECAUSE

the people who are making political news bring it to me directly unfiltered by print or the bias of a commentator.

Not only is the news current and accurate, but all viewpoints are represented and the opportunity to question and challenge is available.

Perhaps the best reason: it continues to be a source of inspiration.

I suggested this type of program for local community television. The idea was accepted by our local cable company and my production of TELEPHONE CONNECTION was aired for the first time in March 1984 with a telephone connected to our elected representatives in Washington, D. C. and Sacratmento.

The format consists of questions relating to local issues that affect Oxnard and Ventura County answered by our representatives from their offices.

Like C Span, we communicate information.

Our theme: "The more people know about how government works, the better it will work."
