Dear Mr. Lamb:

You are the best!

You understand the difference between interviewing and commentating. And, I have seen you commentate well when the format is appropriate.

Your interviews contrast greatly from those of many so-called interviewers, like Larry King, Charlie Rose, Chris Matthews, etc., who continually interrupt their interviewees to give their own view of the question they've posed. It is more a debate than an interview.

Your questions are always well-taken and provocative and you do not seek to dominate the interview.

Because I was absent from home the evening of 30 June 2002, I had to tape your interview of John Leonard. This enabled me to make a time analysis of the interview which I think is fairly accurate.

The entire interview was 57 minutes, 35 seconds. Your portions occupied 4 minutes, 34 seconds. You allowed John Leonard 53 minutes, 1 second. Marvelous!

It is so very good to have you there at C-SPAN!

Keep well.

[REDACTED] Yours sincerely,
[REDACTED]

P.S. - If you can get away sometime next winter, come out and let me work on your Downhill ski technique. I taught [REDACTED] skiing when she was 71 years of age and she loved it.

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for "crowding
me" onto the ski slopes

I love it

Dear [REDACTED]:

Thanks for the FAX. I am just back from five days in Charleston, South Carolina. It was a slightly different routine from Sun Valley.

Are you still skiing? I am still living on the memory of the slopes and am so, so glad that you persuaded me to bite
the bullet.

Love, [REDACTED]
