Just a note to thank you for Labor Day!
The 24 hours of
"About Books" was great! Please continue the tradition for those of us who can't yet get C-SPAN 2. I look forward to New Year's!

John McEwan, 1929

From the collection of the National Archives and Records Administration Washington, DC, 20408

A vintage advertisement illustration. In the foreground, a woman with short, dark, wavy hair is seated at a desk, looking towards the viewer. She is wearing a red sleeveless top over a yellow and white striped garment. She holds a green quill pen in her right hand, poised to write on a piece of paper that has 'AIR MAIL' printed on it. In the background, a biplane with a yellow fuselage and blue wings is flying across a pale sky. The artist's signature 'John McEwan' is visible in the lower right corner of the illustration.
