Dear C-Span:

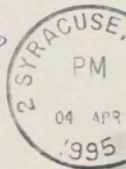

I wish I could afford a phone call. This card will have to do. I just switched off the Washington Journal with Ed Gillespie and Kiki Moore! I find it so wearying to listen to 2 people citing figures - statistics etc. It becomes an exchange of "That is not true" - "yes, it is" - "no, it's not." Nothing substantive emerges, when that partisan clap-trap goes on! What do we learn? Can't you do ~~a~~ better? These people did not come in to discuss news stories. They came to peddle an agenda.

May I make a request for a return of the Journalist's Round Table? I really enjoyed that.

Sincerely, [REDACTED]
