

in effect, "we have a program (format?) for you - what else do you want?"

C-span:

a caller expressed his objection to the new C-span format where you have one guest who is able to express his or her opinions without any ~~or~~ rebuttal from a guest who might have a different viewpoint.

You may think that subsequent callers can rebut opinions of a guest. That is nonsense. a rebuttal must be made immediately, and should be made by a person of the other party - not by some caller who is not in Congress or who somehow happens to knowledgably on a subject. Also, rebuttal should be made instantly, face to face.

Incidentally, your host, Paul Ortel, rudely interrupted that caller, saying,
