Dear MR Lamb:

A Note to express my thanks for your outstanding programs REGARDING BOOKS AND their Authors. I especially enjoyed the recent 2 hour program which originated in the Library of Congress. Not only was it interesting But the setting was Beautiful. Your Sunday Night program of Booknotes is a "must see" at our house. We especially enjoy the questions you put forth to your guest. I have always found it fascinating to know where they did their writing and at what time of day, and did they use a pen, pencil or computer? Your thoughtful questions Elicits the answers.

8. BOOKS

I will look forward to the 24 Hours of Booknotes on New Years Day. A wonderful idea and a chance to take part of them.

As you might suspect, Books are an important part of my life and at my age (65) I can truly appreciate the value of Books in my life. I can also now understand that I probably should have pursued history as a calling and learned how to write & teach this interesting subject. Civil War History holds a special interest for me.

In closing I repeat my thanks for your skills in developing and producing these excellent programs dealing with Books. Also, I wish to compliment your neutral style of moderating the political shows that involve call-ins from viewers throughout America.

My Best wishes for good health and continued success.
